EXPERIENCE:

In my current role, I've spent most of my time working as a content editor for our main client, Visa. Alongside this, I've also managed content editing for Quintet Bank and Waterside. Additionally, I've supported and independently built and tested promotions for Visa, which was an excellent opportunity to strengthen my coding and styling skills. The developers at the company have provided training whenever possible, especially over the last year, to help me advance my abilities. Recently, I was promoted to Junior Developer, a rewarding acknowledgment of my hard work and growth.
